Statement from the Board Chair and Chief Executive Officer

From its birth in June 2018, Mental Health Victoria has over the past year taken on a strong leadership role in mental health system reform and been gladly embraced by a diverse stakeholder group who are hungry for change.

This has been seen particularly in the establishment of the Victorian Mental Health Policy Network which draws together more than 25 peak bodies and has provided a safe and collaborative space for stakeholders who would never otherwise have worked together.

It was a timely and strategic coalition, particularly given the work this year of the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, an investigation we have championed.

MHV was a vocal public advocate for the Royal Commission and we were delighted to be at the Kyneton Men's Shed in October 2018 for Premier Daniel Andrew's election campaign announcement that it would be a feature of his second term in government.

Last year we articulated a sophisticated cross-sectoral case for change in our landmark report, Saving Lives, Saving Money: The case for investment in Victoria's mental health. Just 12 months later, the Policy Network delivered a comprehensive plan for change in our Joint Submission to the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System.

Our close collaboration has also enriched our submissions to two national inquiries of significance, the Productivity Commission's inquiry into mental health and the Royal Commission into Aged Care Quality and Safety.

As well as seeking to shape policy change, MHV also this year successfully advocated for critical new funding in mental health.

That included making the case for much-needed 'stop gap' funding community managed mental health services which saw the Victorian Government make an out-of-budget commitment of $70 million over two years in September 2018.

This was significant for a number of reasons: the funding was secured through a partnership between MHV and the Australian Services Union, was delivered 'out of budget' and ahead of the state election (that is, real money versus a promise), and meant hundreds of jobs were saved.

In addition, the Department of Health and Human Services committed $450,000 to start the upskilling of a new generation of community mental health workers in the NDIS and continued to invest in our Lived Experience Workforce Program.

We also saw significant success nationally, with $114.5 million committed by the Federal Government in April 2019 for a trial of 8 adult community mental health centres and later pledging to the rollout of at least 100 such centres over 10 years.

MHV took the lead on developing and advocating for the program, which may be one of the most important investments in mental health since the advent of headspace.

Over the past 12 months, MHV has made steady progress building a media presence from a low baseline, albeit with very limited resources. We are increasingly called on to provide comment and briefings to journalists and have used our growing profile to encourage both the Victorian and Federal governments to take action on and invest in mental health.

This year has also seen important internal change, continuing the phased transition from a representational style board to a skills and experience-based board under MHV's new constitution. The final phase of that transition will be the election of up to two new directors in November 2019.

Board Chair

Angus Clelland
CEO

We farewelled long serving directors Terry Palioportas and Glen Tobias and welcomed Emma King, CEO of the Victorian Council of Social Service (VCOSS).

Over 2018-19, MHV's Nominations Committee assessed the current and likely future skills, experience and diversity needs of the Board and oversaw the appointment/ election process for the following new directors in June 2019, each of whom commenced as directors in August 2019:

- Dr Leslie Cannold, Australian philosopher, ethicist, educationalist, writer, activist and public intellectual (appointed Director)
- Christopher McDermott, Barrister, Owen Dixon Chambers West, Victorian Bar
- Peter Pynta, Chief Executive Office APAC, Neuro-Insight

We want to thank our Board members, staff, stakeholders and supporters for all their work through such a busy and significant year.

For the year ahead we are facing a 'perfect storm of reform' in policy and practice, with the convergence of ongoing inquiry and reports from the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, the Productivity Commission, the Aged Care Royal Commission, the Royal Commission into Violence, Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of People with Disability and also the potential for a Royal Commission into veteran suicide.

We look forward to working with you all again to ensure the mental health care needs of Victoria are met.

Policy and Advocacy

Through our policy and advocacy work our objective is to champion mental health system reform by being a respected and strategic voice for change.

Our team had a big focus this year on significant state and national inquiries into mental health — the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, the Productivity Commission inquiry into mental health, and the Royal Commission into aged care.

We consulted widely and across sectors to provide multiple targeted and well-informed submissions to each. We also hosted a timely summit on the issues facing of older people with mental health issues.

Victorian Mental Health Policy Network (VMHPN)

Following the release of Saving Lives. Saving Money in mid 2018, MHV established the Victorian Mental Health Policy Network (VMHPN), which brought together organisations involved in the Victorian mental health service system. The Network provides input to MHV's annual policy and research program and strategic policy advice on key issues, including:

- service gaps across the mental health system
- priorities for investment
- preventing unnecessary hospital admissions
- state and Federal election campaign coordination
- strategies for media and communications
- MHV's annual policy and research program.

The Network has played an important role in influencing mental health system improvements, including advice on government funding initiatives and supporting mental health jobs. The Network played a very significant role in the lead-up to the November 2018 Victorian State election, and the development of submissions to the Productivity Commission and Victorian Royal Commission in early to mid-2019, and will continue to advocate for reform and increased investment in mental health services.

Saving Lives. Saving Money: the economic case for increased investment in Victoria's mental health system.

In June 2018, MHV launched the landmark report Saving Lives. Saving Money: the economic case for increased investment in Victoria's mental health system at the Melbourne Town Hall. Leading mental health advocate Professor Pat McGorry launched the report, with experts from KPMG speaking about the economics of mental health investments.

Saving Lives. Saving Money set out the current state of mental health in Victoria, highlighting that:

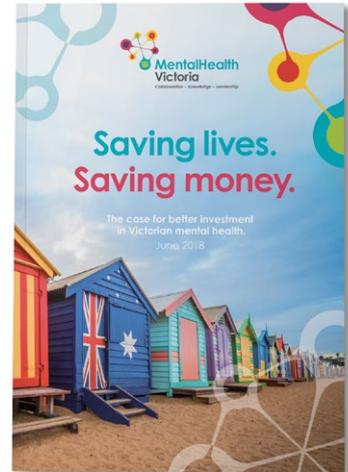

- Victoria had the lowest per capita expenditure on mental health in the country – 13 per cent below the national average.
- Only 1.1 per cent of Victorians received clinical mental health care – a staggering 39 per cent lower than the national average.
- Only a very small proportion of the estimated 150,000 people experiencing severe mental illness each year would be eligible for the NDIS.

- Two out of every three young people in Victoria who need mental health services are being turned away.
- Every 10 minutes a person with a serious mental health issue presents to an Emergency Department in Victoria, up more than 19% over the past four years.

Drawing on expert economic modelling by KPMG, MHV calculated that investment had to grow to an additional $543 million p.a. by 2022 just to ensure that Victoria meets national average service access rates.

The report was very well received and widely quoted in the national media and continues to inform considerable work in the mental health sector.

Terms of Reference for the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, January 2019

With input from numerous stakeholders across the mental health system, MHV contributed to the formation of the Terms of Reference for the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System.

Our submission highlighted the unprecedented opportunity of the Royal Commission to design and build a mental health system that meets the mental health needs of all Victorians. It outlined the need for the Terms of Reference to be comprehensive enough to ensure a strong focus on prevention and early intervention, innovative service design, and the delivery of services that are evidence based, accessible, person-centred, holistic and integrated, and backed by sustained long-term investment.

MHV recommended the Terms of Reference include:

- a logical overarching framework which places people at the centre and crosses the entire lifespan, specifically addressing the needs of particular populations
- data collection, benchmarks and targets to measure success
- a comprehensive investigation of mental health service models and integration with other service sectors, including justice
- research, innovation and best practice approaches
- a focus on early intervention and suicide prevention
- a focus on family and carers
- all relevant workforce implications.

Joint Submission to the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, July 2019.

In July 2019 MHV made a Joint Submission, with the Victorian Healthcare Association and 16 other organisations, to the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System. The submission was formulated in consultation with the Victorian Mental Health Policy Network and other key mental health stakeholders from across the state.

MHV and VHA advocated for a renewed focus on large scale investment at both ends of the mental health system – community-based and hospital-based care. It urged a shift towards prevention and primary care, a greater focus on early intervention particularly for young people, equity of access in growth corridors and rural and regional areas and to all community groups, consistent and integrated whole-of-life services that provide care across the health and social systems, and overarching governance reform.

The submission made 37 detailed recommendations for the reform of Victoria's mental health system, including to:

- follow the recent lead of New Zealand to urgently establish a Mental Health and Wellbeing Commission
- develop and implement a properly scoped and fully funded Mental Health Service and Infrastructure Plan
- establish a fully-funded Centre for Mental Health Research and Innovation
- develop and implement a new Community Mental Health Care Model
- redevelop the Victorian Mental Health Workforce Strategy and conduct a peer workforce trial.

Mental Health & Justice – Joint Submission to the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System, July 2019.

In collaboration with the Mental Health Legal Centre (MHLC), MHV made a second submission to the Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System.

This recognised that promoting and protecting the social and legal rights of people with mental illness requires access to services that provide clear information, work collaboratively and identify and address systemic injustices. The Mental Health and Justice submission outlines some best practices models of justice initiatives and recommends further resourcing, evaluation and development to ensure a more just system.

MHV and MHLC also recommended that the Victorian Government safeguard the social, legal and human rights of people with mental illness by:

- establishing mechanisms to ensure compliance with the United Nations Principles for the Protection of Persons with Mental Illness and the Improvement of Mental Health Care
- implementing a therapeutic justice approach
- resourcing Health-Justice Partnerships
- ensuring access to mental health and legal services for Victorian prisoners
- establishing multidisciplinary community support hubs to prevent and reduce contact between people living with mental illness and the criminal justice sector.

Initial Submission Productivity Commission Inquiry, April 2019

The cost of mental illness to the Australian economy is around 4 per cent of gross domestic product (GDP). Improving the mental health of the population will return significant dividends to the economic productivity of the country as well as major health and social benefits.

The Productivity Commission’s Inquiry into Mental Health represents an opportunity to realise these positive returns.

MHV’s Initial Submission to the Inquiry was a bold statement for major change across all aspects of mental health policy, funding, program delivery and accountability.

We urged it to critically investigate and recommend improvements to: mental health governance arrangements, data and reporting systems; funding models, funding levels and distribution; targets for workforce size, composition, capability and development; the relationship between mental health and the NDIS; and quality and safeguarding mechanisms.

Among our recommended improvements that would enable real change were to:

- draw on and replicate innovative models
- establish service hubs to address gaps and inconsistencies in the mental health system and improve the integration of mental health and other sectors
- promote mental wellbeing at a population level and focus on prevention
- address the social and economic determinants of mental health.

Focusing on prevention: A joint submission to the Productivity Commission inquiry into mental health, April 2019

MHV was pleased to be part of an expert coalition from the health and social sectors brought together by VicHealth and Prevention United to develop a submission to the Productivity Commission inquiry that underscores the importance of prevention as a central pillar of both mental health and general health systems.

This Joint Submission called for the reinstatement of prevention as a core priority in national mental health plans and a progressive funding increase for prevention initiatives to fully realise these benefits. It drew together research and initiatives that target mental health issues, chronic disease, alcohol and substance misuse, gambling, family violence, social determinants of health and other closely related public health issues.

The submission also recommended a focus on:

- early life and risk and protective factors across the lifespan
- groups at increased risk of mental ill-health
- interventions in key settings, such as education, workplaces and the health sector
- building the evidence base through research, monitoring and evaluation
- regulatory decisions.

Adult Community Mental Health Hubs Initial Concept: Model Costing Review, March 2019

Millions of Australians cannot access the mental health care they need and often GPs have nowhere to refer people with complex mental illness apart from the emergency department.

MHV brought together representatives from rural, regional and metropolitan community and hospital networks to develop a model for an adult mental health centre which was then costed by KPMG.

With the assistance of Australian's for Mental Health, MHV recommended that the Commonwealth Government implement this model. We were delighted that the 2019 Federal Budget contained funding for Federal Health Minister the Hon. Greg Hunt MP's commitment to trial 8 of these centres across Australia. Since then the Minister has publicly stated he would like to see 100 or more of these centres rolled out across the country.

MHV News

Our news service is now released weekly and in a more concise format. It aims to keep MHV members and stakeholders informed and up-to-date about issues relevant to the sector, including reforms and transitions, policy, the NDIS, and MHV activities, events, conferences and opportunities.

MHV Journal

The Summer 2018-19 edition of newparadigm, Integration and Collaboration: Best practice and lessons learned, showcased collaborative cross-sector approaches to care. It examined and reported on the key lessons of initiatives that are seeking to provide integrated care to people experiencing mental illness.

MHV is currently undertaking a review of the publication and a new and improved MHV Journal will be launched in 2020.

Ageing, Disability and Mental Health Collaborative Panel

Throughout the year MHV has been a member of the Ageing, Disability and Mental Health Collaborative Panel (supported by State Trustees Australia Foundation), working alongside the Australian Federation of Disability Organisations (AFDO), Carers Victoria, COTA Victoria, Ethnic Communities' Council of Victoria, NDS (National Disability Services) and the Victorian Council of Social Service.

The panel aims to build the capacity of the ageing, disability and mental health sectors as they undergo transformational reforms. This year it has developed key projects to assist individuals, service providers and peak organisations as they adjust to the major reforms over the coming years.

Building consumer control and choice into service design and delivery

With funds provided by the State Trustees Australia Foundation, MHV has completed a project to support organisations across the ageing, disability and mental health sectors to better incorporate consumer choice and control into their service design and delivery.

We have worked with the Australian Federation of Disability Organisations (AFDO), which provided practice case studies and a trainer with lived experience of disability.

Based on a foundation of knowledge accumulated from consultations with providers, consumers and carers, we developed a half-day program around promoting consumer choice and control.

Utilising the Communities of Practice, also developed via the Collaborative Panel, three half-day programs were then co-delivered by MHV and AFDO's trainer to the NEMA, Western and Frankston Communities of Practice.

Forums and events

Workforce Development and Learning

Building the capacity of the mental health workforce and others who interact with people with mental health issues is a priority focus for Mental Health Victoria. This year we continued to work at both a strategic level, through participation in a range of statewide bodies, and in delivering training on the ground. We also developed and delivered a suite of training products aimed at the professional development of the mental health peer workforce.

Building the mental health capabilities of services in Victoria

MHV continued to work this year with a range of individual services, in mental health and the broader community sector, to provide workforce training and development.

We provided significantly more training this year, in part underpinned by our work in the Victorian Community Care Education and Training Service Training Calendar, but also through more requests for in-house training, delivered at the workplace.

This work included collaborating with a number of MHV members to develop customised programs. For example we worked with the BPD (Borderline Personality Disorder) community to co-develop and deliver a program (4 x ½ days sessions delivered on weekends) to equip BPD’s members to use their lived experience as BPD Ambassadors generally and also when making representations to official inquiries, including the current Victorian Mental Health Royal Commission.

Short course training delivered in 2018–2019 included a range of topics:

- Suicide prevention
- Motivational interviewing
- Responding to challenging behaviours
- Recovery oriented practice
- Supporting self-advocacy
- Trauma informed care
- Mental health awareness and literacy
- Developing and facilitating small groups
- Peer Work and using Lived Experience in Mental Health

Increased demand for professional development delivery

Delivered training	2017–2018	2018–2019	Variance (year on year)
1. Individual days of training	107	142	+33%
2. Individual events	72	110	+53%
3. Training days	1,337	1,667	+25%
4. Participants	916	1,510	+65%

Systemic workforce development

Mental Health Victoria continued to engage with a range of organisations, networks, and forums around more systemic, broader workforce development issues and activity.

These include through and with:

- DHHS Mental Health Workforce Reference Group
- Centre for Mental Health Learning Victoria,
- The Community Services and Health Industry Advisory Group, with the Office of the Victoria Skills Commissioner and the Community Services and Health Industry Training Advisory Board (CS&HITAB)
- Department of Education and Training NDIS Expert Advisory Group
- The Collaborative Panel, supporting the Cross-sector Learning & Development Project, auspiced by the Victorian Council of Social Service (VCOSS)
- Swinburne University of Technology, providing short courses for the Victorian Community Care Education and Training Service Training Calendar
- The Lived Experience Workforce Strategies Stewardship Group

Helping to build Victoria’s Mental Health Peer Workforce

Our engagement with the newly established Lived Experience Workforce Strategies Stewardship Group is an important development, strengthening existing relationships and providing an opportunity to better collaborate with a wider range of partners and stakeholders.

This group complements and supports the ongoing evolution of professional development programs for Peer Workers and the Lived Experience Workforce more generally, including delivering the CHC 43515 Certificate IV Mental Health Peer Work, a nationally accredited qualification delivered through our partnership with Wodonga Institute of TAFE.

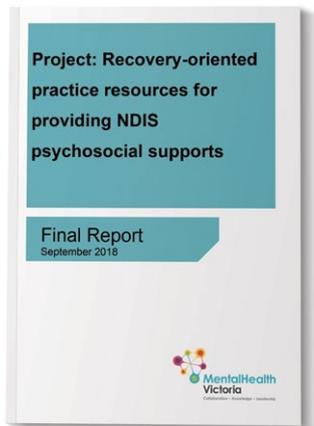

This year two Certificate IV Mental Health Peer Work programs were completed, and a new program commenced, for completion in early 2020.

This program is being delivered in Warrnambool where MHV has worked closely with Southwest Healthcare and, in particular, with its Consumer Consultant to both establish the program and support its ongoing delivery. It is the second Certificate IV program that MHV is delivering in regional Victoria.

Alongside the accredited training, MHV also has delivered a range of non-accredited, short courses around using Lived Experience. Chief amongst these courses is the five day Foundations in Peer Work, introduced in 2018 and growing in popularity.

Innovative solutions for changing workforces

MHV also completed a project to develop and pilot an innovative development program and associated resources to test new delivery modes (for example, mobile learning) while strengthening recovery oriented practice in organisations and workers providing psychosocial disability supports through the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

The project is being undertaken in close collaboration with NDIS Psychosocial Disability providers and their workers, along with the Victorian Department of Health and Human Services, and NDS (National Disability Services – Victorian branch).

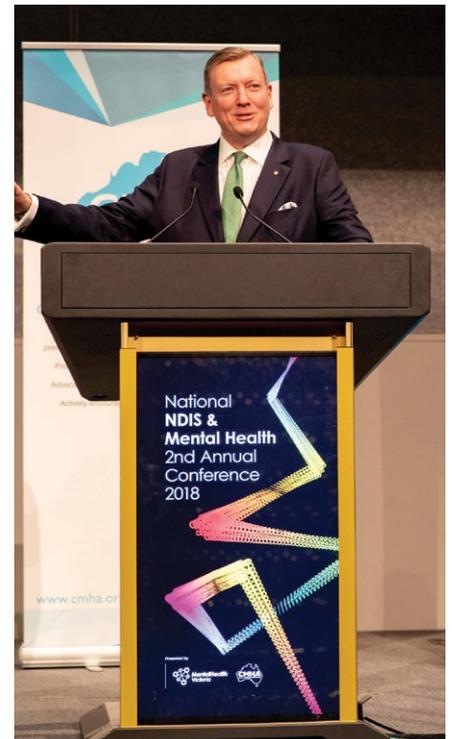

It will develop a Psychosocial Capability Framework for the NDIS Provider Workforce and, in line with that, will design and develop a suite of accessible, NDIS contextualised, professional development programs utilising digital learning technologies.

In 2018, the Board and Members of Mental Health Victoria's predecessor, Psychiatric Disability Services of Victoria Inc., agreed to a suite of major reforms including the adoption of a new name (Mental Health Victoria), transition to a company limited by guarantee, and the adoption of a new constitution.

The new organisation was officially launched at the Melbourne Town Hall in June 2018.

A key feature of the new constitution was the phased transition from a representational style board to one based on skills and experience. The final phase of this transition will be the election of up to two new directors in November 2019.

Over 2018-19, MHV's Nominations Committee assessed the current and likely future skills, experience and diversity needs of the Board and oversaw the appointment/election process for the following new directors, each of whom commenced as directors in August 2019:

Notes to and forming part of the Financial Statements

For The Year Ended 30 June 2019

Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements cover Mental Health Victoria Limited as an individual entity, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Mental Health Victoria Limited is a company limited by guarantee.

Financial Reporting Framework

The Directors have prepared the financial statements on the basis that the Company is a non-reporting entity because there are no users dependent on general purpose financial statements. These financial statements are therefore special purpose financial statements that have been prepared in order to meet the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012. The Company is a not-for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the mandatory Australian Accounting Standards applicable to entities reporting under the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the significant accounting policies disclosed below, which the Directors have determined are appropriate to meet the needs of members. Such accounting policies are consistent with those of previous periods unless stated otherwise.

Statement of Compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the mandatory Australian Accounting Standards applicable to entities reporting under the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012, the basis of accounting specified by all

Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations, and the disclosure requirements of Accounting Standards:

- AASB 101: Presentation of Financial Statements,
- AASB 107: Cash Flow Statements,
- AASB 108: Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors,
- AASB 1031: Materiality
- AASB 1054: Australian Additional Disclosures.

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements, except for the cash flow information, have been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical costs unless otherwise stated in the notes. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless stated otherwise. The amounts presented in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar.

Significant Accounting Policies

a) Taxation

The Company is exempt under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 as a non-profit organisation. As such, no allowance has been made for Income Tax.

b) Plant and Equipment

Each class of plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value, less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by the Company to ensure it is not in excess of the fair value of those assets. The fair value represents the amount for which an asset could be exchanged between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm's length transaction.

The carrying values of plant and equipment are also reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable. If any impairment exists, the assets are written down to their recoverable amount and the loss recognised in the income statement.

The depreciable amounts of all fixed assets are depreciated over their useful lives commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the shorter of the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful life of the improvements.

Website development costs are amortised over the useful life of the website commencing from the date when the website is ready for use.

The gain or loss on disposal of all fixed assets, is determined as the difference between the carrying amount of the asset at the time of disposal and the proceeds of disposal, and is included in operating profit in the year of disposal.

During the year, and in prior years, various assets have been purchased for projects by using project funding. In such cases, a provision for Equipment Reserve has been established, which records the written down value of the assets that have been funded by project income. As the fixed assets are depreciated, an amount is recognised as revenue in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income to reduce the provision to the new written down value of the funded assets.

c) Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Directors review the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, an impairment test is carried out on the asset by comparing the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, to the asset's carrying amount. Any excess of the asset's carrying amount over its recoverable amount is recognised in the income and expenditure.

d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

e) Trade and Other Receivables

Trade and other receivables include amounts due from members as well as amounts receivable from donors. Receivables expected to be collected within 12 months of the end of the reporting period are classified as current assets. All other receivables are classified as non-current assets.

f) Revenue and Other Income

Non-reciprocal grant revenue is recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income when the Company obtains control of the grant, it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the grant will flow to the Company and the amount of the grant can be measured reliably.

If conditions are attached to the grant which must be satisfied before it is eligible to receive the contribution, the recognition of the grant as revenue will be deferred until those conditions are satisfied.

When grant revenue is received whereby the Company incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the contributor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction and the grant revenue is recognised in the Statement of Financial Position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the contributor, otherwise the grant is recognised as income on receipt.

The Company receives non-reciprocal contributions of assets from the government and other parties for zero or a nominal value. These assets are recognised at fair value on the date of acquisition in the Statement of Financial Position, with a corresponding amount of income recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income.

Donations and bequests are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest revenue is recognised when received.

Revenue from the rendering of a service is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax.

g) Trade and Other Payables

Trade and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the Company during the reporting period that remain unpaid. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

h) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included with other receivables or payables in the Statement of Financial Position.

i) Employee Entitlements

Provision is made for the Company's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits that are expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled.

Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may not satisfy any vesting requirements. Those cash outflows are discounted using market yields on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cash flows.

j) Comparative Figure Changes

When required by Accounting Standards, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

Note 12: Events after year end
No matter or circumstance has arisen since 30 June 2019 that has significantly affected, or may significantly affect the Company's operations, the results of those operations or the Company's state of affairs in the future financial years that hasn't been disclosed elsewhere in the financial statements.
Note 13: Members' Guarantee
The Company is incorporated under the Corporations Act 2001 and is a company limited by guarantee. If the company is wound up, the constitution states that each member is required to contribute a maximum of $10 towards meeting any outstanding obligations of the entity. At 30 June 2019, the number of members was 42 (2018: 45).
Note 14: Economic Dependence and Going Concern
The Company has been historically dependent on State Government grant funding for a significant portion of its revenue. As this dependence presents a risk to the entity, in 2017/18 the Board authorised major changes to the entity's brand, legal structure, internal operations and service offerings to allow the entity to pursue new revenue sources.
The Company's effective first year of operation under the new brand as Mental Health Victoria Ltd was 2018/19. During this year, the Company secured ongoing funding from the Victorian Government to at least 2021/22, saw its Learning & Development business unit deliver its first surplus, delivered a healthy surplus from its national conference, and secured its first corporate sponsorship. Post the end of 2018/19, the Company secured new grant funding from the Commonwealth, further diversifying the entity's revenue base.
Taking all of the above into account, Mental Health Victoria Ltd is placed in a position whereby it can continue to operate as a going concern after 30 June 2019. Nevertheless, the Board and CEO have agreed that it would be prudent to further diversify revenue streams to provide safety buffers from reliance on particular sources. The Board has also agreed to set a strategic reserve target with the aim of providing the entity with the ability to respond effectively should for example there be a major future change in the organisation's revenue streams e.g. loss of a Government grant.

Basis for Opinion

Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ACNC Act, the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110: Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter – Basis of Accounting

We draw attention to Note 1 to the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Directors of the Company is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2019, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon. In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The Directors of the registered entity are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and have determined that the basis of preparation described in Note 1 to the financial report is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and is appropriate to meet the needs of the members. The Directors' responsibility also includes such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of a financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Directors of the Company are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF
ABN: 79 174 342 927

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
